

AEI Tèxtils presents the online training course of the European project Di4TEX

The program consists of 7 topics focused on the digitization of the advanced textile materials industry.

AEI Textils collaborates in the DI4TEX project, which seeks to promote the digital transformation of the textile industry by equipping professionals in the sector with the necessary skills to solidly face the new challenges that the future holds.

It does so through the development of a virtual learning platform that revolves around topics such as Data Analytics and Artificial Intelligence, Robotic Collaborative Systems, Digitalization of Production, Innovative Business Models, etc.
